

NRCHA E-Cow Work

June 10, 2010

~~~~~

A Message from NRCHA Corporate Partner Markel Insurance

Markel Insurance is very proud the NRCHA chose us to be the Official Equine Insurance Company of the NRCHA! We invite you to visit the Markel booth at the upcoming NRCHA Derby in Paso Robles, California. We will have Frank Costantini and Doug Landreth, two of Markel's horse insurance specialists, available to answer all your horse and farm insurance questions.

We have provided uninterrupted coverage for horses and horse-related risks for over four decades and share your passion for horses and commitment to the horse industry. Our associates are horse people first and insurance people second. Our insurance products focus on protecting your horses, home, barn, tack and equipment. Whether it's for one horse or an entire stable, boarding or training facility, we've got you covered.

*Horse Farm Package * Commercial Equine Liability * Horse Mortality Private Horse Owner's Liability * Riding & Hunt Club Liability*

Should you need a Markel quote prior to visiting with one our representatives at the show:

- oContact Frank Costantini at (800) 314-0077 or Doug Landreth at (888) 662-7535
- oVisit www.horseinsurance.com

We'll See You In Paso Robles!

Important Notice for NRCHA Derby Participants

Due to another event being held at the Paso Robles Events Center prior to the NRCHA Derby, we ask that no horses or RVs arrive until Sunday morning - June 13. If this is a problem please contact Kevin Howell at the NRCHA office immediately to determine if we are able to get you in before Sunday morning.

Don't Miss the NRCHA Derby Webcast!

----- , -----

If you can't make it to the Derby, there's no need to miss any of the great cow horse action in Paso Robles, you can catch it on the live webcast beginning June 15 at 8am PST. Six days of Derby go rounds and all of the Open and Non Pro horse show classes including the inaugural Holy Cow Performance Horses Open Bridle Spectacular, featuring the CD Survivor Memorial Trophy, will be live webcast by Galloping Video, NRCHA's official videographer. Last year there were 7,500 hits during the internet event with 1,800 viewers logged on during Finals day.

Sponsors for the 2010 Derby webcast are Jake Telford Training, Winfield Farms, Very Smart Remedy, Ricotti's Saddle Shop, Jason's Peptolena, Cottonwood Springs Ranch, K Bar J Leather, and Holy Cow Performance Horses.

Learn the Tricks of the Trade at the 2010 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity

Some reined cow horse industry stars have already committed to share their know-how at several free mini-seminars and demonstrations during the 2010 National Reined Cow Horse Association Snaffle Bit Futurity.

Already lined up are:

- NRCHA Hall of Fame inductee Les Vogt on "Bits and Bitting."
- Multiple Snaffle Bit Non Pro Champion Anne Reynolds on the "Mental Game for Competition."
- NRCHA Hall of Fame inductee Bobby Ingersoll on the "Correct Use of the Hackamore."
- Two Judges' Sessions slated -- one geared for riders and trainers and the other for amateurs and owners.

All the mini-seminars and demonstrations will be in the Trade Show area and are free. No dates have been set but the sessions will be set up on the days leading up to the finals.

If you are interested in conducting a mini-seminar or have a great idea for one, please let us know by emailing nrcha@nrcha.com.

Don't Miss the Pre-Works at the 2010 Snaffle Bit Futurity

Sunday pre-work practice pens will open at 8am.

This will be on an add two basis. For those of you that don't know how this works, it is simple and everyone who signs up is guaranteed two head of fresh cattle.

The time limit is 4 minutes per work and the cost will be $125. Sign up and pre-payment will be required.

Now you can work your horse and know you are receiving fresh quality cattle and not have to worry about "luck of the draw."

Please watch for more details via the NRCHA E-Cow Work and mailings.